

Weather

Cloudy and warm today. Highest 84 to 88. Some cloudiness tonight lowest near 70. Wednesday warm and humid with thundershowers in afternoon or evening.

The Levittown Times

The Delaware Valley's Great Home Newspaper

FINAL

EDITION

VOL. 7, No. 251

Member ABC

LEVITTOWN, PA., TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 26, 1960

24 PAGES

PRICE SIX CENTS

Nixon Reported Winning His Fight For Stronger Civil Rights Program

Vice President Richard Nixon is attentive listener as former President Herbert Hoover holds the floor in Chicago. Hoover earlier addressed night session of Republican National Convention and urged delegates to lead U. S. out of "frightening moral slump." (UPI Telephoto)

Rocky Shuns VP Bid

CHICAGO (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon reported progress toward a strong Republican civil rights program today and Nelson A. Rockefeller rebuffed another move to draft him for the GOP vice presidential nomination.

Nixon's progress report came after a "long night" of telephone talks with Republican platform drafters as the GOP national convention went into its second day. This was "Thank You, Ike" day in Chicago, and both city and delegates were geared to give him a rousing welcome.

The vice president told Rockefeller, his partner in the fight for a strong civil rights plank, that they had made some headway. He and the New York governor talked by telephone for about 10 minutes.

Convention Stories

PAGE 5

Woman VP? Hoover's Goodbye Rocky Stands Firm Republican Convention

Won't Change Stand

Rockefeller breakfasted with a group of governors who tried to get him to change his won't run- won't serve attitude toward the vice presidency. Aside from breaking bread with them, he gave them no comfort. He said he wouldn't accept the No. 2 bid.

Nixon was staking all his prestige as the party's indicated presidential nominee in his drive with Rockefeller for a civil rights plank like the one they jointly proposed Saturday.

Their activities irritated conservative Republicans, particularly Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona. Goldwater said Rockefeller was "out to destroy" the GOP. He said he had "mouse-trapped" Nixon into helping him.

"I don't think Nixon can get elected if he keeps on doing what he's doing," Goldwater said. "If a liberal civil rights plank is adopted, the South will leave the (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

Ike Leaves For Chicago

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower, after a delay of two hours, took off from Quonset Naval Air Station at 11:56 a.m. e.d.t. today aboard a military jet transport for Chicago where he will address the Republican National Convention.

The presidential party originally had been scheduled to leave two hours earlier, but "heavy rains" and bad weather over O'Hare Field outside Chicago delayed the takeoff here.

The President's big silver and orange Boeing 707 was scheduled to arrive at O'Hare at 2:05 p.m. e.d.t.

Eisenhower is to address the GOP convention tonight.

In advance of his speech tonight Eisenhower was keeping hands off convention battles on platform planks, most of which were shaping up as praise for the administration to Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

Hitchhiker Tells Of Wild Killing Spree

MIAMI (UPI) — A Kentucky desperado arrested in a running gun battle last April led police today on a search for the body of a woman he said he killed in a hard-drinking trip from Virginia to Key West.

The accused man, Emmett Spencer 29, already has been indicted for one murder in Key West. He led Monroe County (Key West) authorities to the body of a second victim Monday.

He talked vaguely of killing eight persons on his spree, including a family of four in Virginia. Virginia authorities said the only missing family was the Carroll Vernon Jackson family for whose murder jazz musician Melvin Rees recently was arrested in Memphis.

R.L. Brown, chief investigator (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Champ Honored

Derby King Gets Plaque At Banquet

Highlighting the first annual Lower Bucks County Soap Box Derby Banquet of Champions last night was the presentation of the championship E.N. Cole Plaque to Derby King Art Krespach. The plaque, symbol of the Lower Bucks County championship, was presented to the 15-year-old Levittown boy by Kenneth L. Terry, district manager of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors.

Terry congratulated the contestants of this year's LBC Soap Box Derby for their fine showing, but said, "You boys, your parents, and everyone connected with the Derby have to get out and talk to possible sponsors of the race, and eligible boys to participate in the Derby."

The Chevrolet official, speaking in behalf of the firm which nationally sponsors the Soap Box Derby, said the Lower Bucks County area is a key one for Derby activities.

"Being the young sort of community it is," he said, "you have youth and enthusiasm here. You should have a field of 125 entrants every year."

The second, third, and fourth place trophies were presented by

Lodge Keeps Trying

Russia Is Likely To Use Veto To Block RB-47 Investigation

Good Evening!

GOPers also pretty fair speech-makers.

And already they're out to out-talk the Democrats, judging from the oratorical deluge last night.

The fellow who really stole the first-nighter, however, was Republican elder statesman Herbert Hoover. He made much sense.

What the nation needs, said he (you heard him), is rebirth of a great spiritual force which has been impaired by cynicism and weakened by foreign infection. We say that just about wraps up our basic problem in a nutshell.

Okay, even our Phillies getting into the act.

They're going against the Cubs in the city of higher winds today and just maybe Robin Roberts could pitch another of those neat one-hitters. They sure need to get back on the winning beat.

State agents tracking down unlicensed pups in Bucks County, we see by the papers.

Well sir, like they say, every dog has his day. Maybe sometime he'll insist on people being licensed.

A bit warmer, a bit more humid but still scrumptious — the weather.

Need of a few effective showers notwithstanding, roasting ears right now at their exquisite best.

In a few more days the convention season will be done. Then there'll be nothing left for the voter to do except resume paying taxes.

If you must go against your better judgment, you'd better do it when she's not around.

Just when you discover what trouble is all about, it's about something else.

Be careful with your driving.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Russia appeared determined today to use its United Nations veto to block impartial investigation of the downing of a U.S. RB-47 reconnaissance plane over the Barents Sea July 1.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, in an overnight change of plan, asked to be placed last on the speakers' list in the Security Council to sum up and perhaps present more evidence in an effort to talk Russia out of using its 38th veto. The council met at 10:30 a.m. e.d.t.

The United States contends the RB-47 was never closer than 30 miles to the Soviet coast and was far out over international waters when a Russian plane sought to force it to turn inland before it was downed.

Argentina, Italy, China and Poland were the speakers listed for this morning's council meeting. The 11-nation body also scheduled a 3 p.m. e.d.t. meeting and the vote was expected before adjournment tonight.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov declared Monday that the U.S. record of the flight, obtained from undisclosed scientific devices and corroborated by equally secret British means, was "a coarse fabrication."

Kuznetsov flatly rejected Lodge's proposal for a joint U.S.-Soviet commission, with a mutually acceptable third party, to examine whatever wreckage there might be of the plane and to question survivors and any eye witnesses.

Weather To Stay Warm And Humid

A couple of warm, humid days are on tap for the Lower Bucks area, the weatherman predicted this morning.

Today's high temperature in the upper 80's will be accompanied by a corresponding upward trend in the humidity.

Temporary relief tonight, during which the temperature will drop to between 65 and 70, will be ended tomorrow. High for tomorrow will be between 85 and 90. The humidity rise will be capped with thundershowers sometime tomorrow afternoon or evening, the weatherman forecast.

High yesterday was 85 at 4:30 p.m. The low this morning was 61 at 3 o'clock.

New Third Lane

President Vincent H. Hartley, Bristol Township Board of Commissioners, (left) and Township manager Richard J. Bowen, examine work being done by the state highway department on a third lane in the Pennsylvania approach to the Burlington Bristol Bridge. Hartley said the work, which should be completed soon, is not expected to eliminate the bottle-neck at the bridge, but that it should be of some help. The work is being done in answer to last year's request by the township commissioners. (Courier-Times Photo)

Asst. Sgt.-At-Arms

Ziegler Reports Pa. Delegates Favor Lodge As Nixon's Mate

Bucks County Republican Chairman Fred E. Ziegler reports from Chicago and the GOP National Convention that there is considerable sentiment in the Pennsylvania delegation for UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as the vice presidential nominee.

The delegation, Ziegler reported from his room at the Palmer House Hotel, Chicago, early today, has not ruled out New York Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller "but it appears that he has taken himself out of the picture."

Ziegler is not a delegate to the convention but as one of the 250 assistant sergeants-at-arms he has been one of the busiest men in Chicago since last Friday.

The Bucks County GOP chairman, who lives in Feasterville, said the Pennsylvania delegation will caucus this morning on a possible vice-presidential choice. He said the delegates expect some indication from Vice President Nixon on his choice of a running mate today.

FRED E. ZIEGLER

Ziegler said that Nixon will address that caucus. He reported that a request from Harold Stassen to have Rockefeller talk to the delegation has been turned down. It was ruled that the request must come from Rockefeller himself, Ziegler explained.

"We would back Sen. Hugh Scott for Vice President if it didn't mean that we would lose his seat in the Senate to the Democrats," Ziegler said.

Civil Rights

Civil rights is one of the liveliest issues at the convention, Ziegler said. "If it must be carried to the floor, the Pennsylvania delegation will probably lead the fight for a strong civil rights plank in the party platform," Ziegler asserted.

As an assistant sergeant-at-arms, Ziegler said he has been busy since Friday helping to accommodate the more than 500 (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

In Fallsington

Falls School Board Sets Up Own Office

Falls Township's school board last night completed plans to establish its own separate office in the Fallsington school.

Under discussion by the board for some months, the action divorcing the board's physical headquarters and accounts from the Pennsbury Joint board was in line with suggestions made in a report released several months ago by state Auditor General Charles C. Smith.

Raymond Lipshutz, board president, explained that the new facilities will enable the board to more completely, "explain to citizens the income and expenditures made by their board."

Accounting System

"The new quarters and facilities will also enable us to establish our own accounting system with fuller controls," the board president added.

Previously, the board's offices and accounts were located with those of the Pennsbury Joint board. The new office will be located next to Dr. Charles S. Muschel's office on the school's first floor.

New auditors for the 1960-61 school year are now being sought, the board announced.

Quarterly Audits

The board hopes to engage a certified public accounting firm and plans to institute a system of quarterly audits. Advice on how to better the board's accounting procedures will also be solicited from the accounting firm selected for the job.

Firms interested in applying for the position of the school district's auditors were urged by board (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Was Saving Brother

Infant Killed When Knocked From Grandfather's Arms By Vehicle

Fate cancelled a grandfather's heroic rescue of one child by claiming the life of another, yesterday in Maple Shade, N.J.

Tiny victim of the tragedy, which occurred at 11 a.m., was nine-month-old Patricia Eller, who died from injuries received when she was knocked from the arms of her grandfather Harry Eller, by an automobile.

Saved from death in the nick of time by the grandfather, was Patricia's two-year-old brother, Frederick Jr. He had wandered out into the road in front of the grandparent's home at the junction of Crawford St., and Forked Landing Road.

According to the account of the accident given to police by the grandfather, the baby was held ing the infant Patricia in his arms in front of his home at 215 Crawford St. Suddenly he noticed that his other grandchild, little Frederick, had wandered across Crawford St., and was starting to cross the adjoining Forked Landing Road.

Eller, with the infant in his right arm, instantly made a fran-

Inside Today

TIRED? — Tired of conventions, on TV, that is? The Courier-Times television guide carries a complete list of New York and Philadelphia channels, and includes a number of other programs besides the political conventions. Page 23.

INDEX

Amusements	10
Cassified	17-21
Comics	22, 23
Daily Investor	8
Danzig	10
Dear Abby	14
Editorials	6
Jacoby	10
Junior Reporter	22
Movies	10
Obituaries	19
Serial	10
Sports	15, 16
Women's News	9

Remember What Fun It Was When You Camped Out?

Falls Township youngsters from the Penn Valley Playground last night were the first to take part in overnight camp-outs scheduled by the Falls Township Recreation Department. Children from seven other playgrounds will take to the tents this week.

Tenting during last night's Falls Township Recreation Department's camp-out behind the Fallsington School are, (from left) John Karcher, 10 and Larry Garvie, 11.

Marshmallow roasting is part of any overnight camp experience and provides good eating, judging from the faces last night of, (from left) Linda

Dyke, 13, Joan Shaw, 13 and Raymond Elynn, 11. (Courier-Times Photos By Dave Snow)

Gunman Gets $300 In Burlington Holdup

The Levittown Times

The Delaware Valley's Great Home Newspaper

TUESDAY, JULY 26, 1960

PAGE 3

2,000 Dance On The Mall

An estimated 2,000 persons danced last night on the Mall of the Levittown Shopping Center in the first of a series of musical events scheduled for Monday evenings.

Sponsored by the Levittown Businessmen's Association, the events are presented at the Central Melody section of the Shop-A-Rama.

Next Monday at 9 p.m., a jazz group headed by Johnny Phillips, former drummer with the Stan Kenton orchestra, will play. There will be 800 seats available.

Kenny Allen conducted a 16-piece orchestra in last evening's presentation.

During the coming weeks, the businessmen's group has announced, folk music, string quartets, and folk dancing will be featured.

Ziegler

(Continued From Page 1)

Pennsylvania residents who want to attend the convention.

"We have only 300 tickets allotted us," Ziegler said. "But we try to get our people into at least one session of the convention."

As anyone who watched last night's convention proceedings is aware, the sergeants-at-arms are taking a very active role in keeping the convention orderly.

"I am assigned to a specific area and am responsible for that area," Ziegler said. "Yesterday, I was on the floor of the convention from about 8 o'clock in the morning to 12:30 last night."

"The convention highlight was last night's wonderful speech by Sen. Judd," Ziegler said. "Everyone was impressed."

Brush Fire Extinguished Near Technical School

Firemen from the Fairless Hills and Levittown No. 2 companies fought a brush fire for a half hour before quelling the flames this morning.

The fire was contained to an open field on Wister Road near the Bucks County Technical School, Bristol Township. The fire was reported at 10:20 a.m.

Births

Lower Bucks County Hospital

July 24

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Giam-pico, 187 Kenwood Drive S., Levittown, girl.

July 25

Mr. and Mrs. John Theobald, R. D. 1 Box 512, Upper Black Eddy, Pa. girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Helveston, 19 Canoebirch Road, Levittown, boy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes, 10 Town Road, Levittown, girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds, 322 Thornridge Drive, Levittown, boy.

Derby King Gets Plaque At Banquet

(Continued from Page One)

had been asked to assist in the Soap Box Derby, he said. "This is it. This is for the youngsters of the Lower Bucks County community."

The steel official presented the second place trophy to Charles Irwin of Morrisville; third place trophy to Greg Risley of Levittown; and fourth place trophy to Rickie McCalla of Levittown.

Presenting trophies to heat winners and participants in the fourth annual Lower Bucks County Soap Box Derby, sponsored by the Courier-Times, local Chevrolet dealers and local service organizations, was Kay Blincoe, representing George G. Gray, editor of the Courier-Times.

Lower Bucks County Soap Box Derby Director Robert Hisey gave the keynote address. "Without considering the $5,000 cost of the specially-built ramp donated by U. S. Steel, the overall operational cost of the Derby through donations, time and manpower is estimated to exceed an additional $5,000. This is a token of how much the people of Lower Bucks County think of your Derby," he said.

Hisey congratulated the boys who raced Sunday and said, "Win, lose or draw, your greatest reward is the satisfaction of matching skills with some of the finest young citizens in our country."

The director said, "To curtail any question of doubt when someone wins or someone loses, I, and members of the Derby Committee performed a post-race inspection and determined without any doubt that the winning car and its components were legal and constructed in accordance with all Derby rules and regulations."

Honest Race

"I say this so each of you may be assured that you won or lost in an honest race and that each of you should be proud that your participation in this wonderful event has marked a time in your young lives whereby you became a symbol of the creative and competitive tradition of America."

The championship racer was on display in the banquet hall. Also on the program was a film of one of the All-American Soap Box Derby races in Akron, Ohio.

Krespach will represent this area in the 23rd All-American in Akron on August 14.

The invocation and benediction at the banquet were delivered by the Rev. Father James V. Leary, assistant of St. Michael the Archangel Church, Levittown.

Hiker Says

(Continued From Page 1)

of the Monroe County sheriff's department, said Spencer talked of "other killings," but said there was no evidence of any murders except the two in Monroe County.

Spencer was captured April 15 in a running gunbattle at Leesburg, Fla. His car was stopped by Florida Highway Patrolman James H. Cox near Clermont, Fla. He shot and wounded Cox and sped his car toward Leesburg. Cox recovered, radioed a warning and Leesburg police set up a roadblock.

senting George G. Gray, editor of the Courier-Times.

Lower Bucks County Soap Box Derby Director Robert Hisey gave the keynote address. "Without considering the $5,000 cost of the specially-built ramp donated by U. S. Steel, the overall operational cost of the Derby through donations, time and manpower is estimated to exceed an additional $5,000. This is a token of how much the people of Lower Bucks County think of your Derby," he said.

Hisey congratulated the boys who raced Sunday and said, "Win, lose or draw, your greatest reward is the satisfaction of matching skills with some of the finest young citizens in our country."

The director said, "To curtail any question of doubt when someone wins or someone loses, I, and members of the Derby Committee performed a post-race inspection and determined without any doubt that the winning car and its components were legal and constructed in accordance with all Derby rules and regulations."

Honest Race

"I say this so each of you may be assured that you won or lost in an honest race and that each of you should be proud that your participation in this wonderful event has marked a time in your young lives whereby you became a symbol of the creative and competitive tradition of America."

The championship racer was on display in the banquet hall. Also on the program was a film of one of the All-American Soap Box Derby races in Akron, Ohio.

Krespach will represent this area in the 23rd All-American in Akron on August 14.

The invocation and benediction at the banquet were delivered by the Rev. Father James V. Leary, assistant of St. Michael the Archangel Church, Levittown.

Hiker Says

(Continued From Page 1)

of the Monroe County sheriff's department, said Spencer talked of "other killings," but said there was no evidence of any murders except the two in Monroe County.

Spencer was captured April 15 in a running gunbattle at Leesburg, Fla. His car was stopped by Florida Highway Patrolman James H. Cox near Clermont, Fla. He shot and wounded Cox and sped his car toward Leesburg. Cox recovered, radioed a warning and Leesburg police set up a roadblock.

Congratulations, Champ

Art Krespach, (center) of 70 Elderberry, Levittown, winner of the Lower Bucks County Soap Box Derby Sunday, receives congratulations and the championship E. N. Cole Plaque from Kenneth L. Terry, (right) district manager of the Chevrolet Division of

General Motors, and from Robert Hisey, LBC Soap Box Derby director. The presentation was made last night during the Banquet of Champions in the Fairless Hills Fire Company hall. (Courier-Times Photo)

Goldwater Blasts Rocky

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater charged today that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is "out to destroy what we know as the Republican Party."

Goldwater told a meeting of delegates from his home state of Arizona that Rockefeller "mouse-trapped" Vice President Richard M. Nixon on the civil rights issue.

"I don't think Nixon can get elected if he keeps on doing what he's doing," Goldwater told the delegates.

State Helps County With $7,231 Check

The Bucks County Industrial Development Corp. today received a state check for $7,231 to promote the county's economic growth.

The check was presented to Herbert Barnes, president of the corporation, by Deputy Commerce Secretary J. Eric Jones.

In a statement released in Harrisburg in connection with the presentation, Gov. David L. Lawrence praised Bucks County as "one of the fastest growing counties in our Commonwealth, both industrially and from a population standpoint."

Falls School Board Sets Up Own Office

(Continued From Page 1)

members to write to Dr. Muschel, the regional superintendent, at the Fallsington School, Yardley Ave., Fallsington.

Objections to alleged unequal expenditure distribution between the Falls Board and the Pennsbury Joint Board consumed most of the meeting's three and a half hours.

Falls Board Paid

Richard Davis and James Smith, board members, pointed out several instances where the joint board should have paid for items paid for by the Falls board.

A $2,700 tree clearing project at Fall's Village Park School was paid by the Falls board, Davis explained, while a $1,000 fire detection and alarm system at the Yardley school was paid by joint funds.

Both Davis and Smith felt that the tree clearing project should have been paid for by the joint board.

Technical School

Payments to the Bucks County Technical School for 200 township pupils attending classes have also received the two men's attention. Smith claimed that the board is paying for 460 students at

Savings-Loan Office Robbed In Daylight

At approximately 3:45 p.m. yesterday, a dark-haired man, wearing sunglasses walked into the office of the Burlington Savings and Loan Association, 18 East Broad St., Burlington, approached teller, Carmella Leone, pointed an automatic pistol at her and said, "Give me all the money in the drawer."

Miss Leone, a 1959 graduate of Burlington High School, handed the man, (about $300.) then asked him if he wanted the change too. Without answering her, he grabbed the bills and said, "Lie down on the floor." She did.

Seconds later, Miss Leone jumped up and ran to the back of the loan office, where two other women were working. Mrs. Helen Dixon, manager of the office, and Mrs. Alice Goheen hadn't heard a thing, probably because an air conditioner operating in the front office had muffled the voices.

Miss Leone said the man was over six feet tall, 200 pounds, had dark hair and was missing one or two teeth on the left side of his mouth. According to Miss Leone, he was wearing a white shirt and dark trousers.

Miss Leone also said that the man came into the office first, before robbing it, and threw up his hands saying something like "Oh, this is the wrong place." Moments later he returned. He entered the first time to see if any men were there. There weren't, so he came back, this time in earnest.

Chief Peter Yuengling and Patrolman Frank Rado arrived on the scene moments after they were called. They said that everything seems to indicate that this was a "professional job." The chief called in county detectives and the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Trenton.

Burlington police are checking for a late model white convertible, last seen speeding out of town towards Bordentown. It is believed to be the holdup-man's car.

Howard Bolten, John Pinto and Mike Abriola all residents of Burlington, were standing a few doors down from the loan office holding a conversation when the office was robbed. They said that they didn't hear or see a thing.

Never Been Robbed

County detectives Harry McConnell and Howard Nixon worked with city detectives, in questioning nearby residents. This operation was directed by county prosecutor Martin J. Queenan.

Mrs. Dixon said that the Burlington Savings and Loan has been in existence since 1883, but never has it been robbed, until now.

This robbery bears a more than slight resemblance to the robbery of the Empire Finance Company, Mount Holly, which took place on Friday. It's interesting to note that the parent office of the Empire Finance Co., is located directly across the street from the Burlington Savings and Loan Office.

Going In Circles

By Tom Tindall

We went to the first annual years now, but it took the per-Bristol Township employees' picnic sistance of Nancy Lee Z. Van-at the Circle M Ranch in Croydon Horn, Esther Malaspina, Police Chief John R. Stewart, Civil Defense Director Clarence W. Bixler and Detective Wallace Mich-ener to hold it down and tie it up. There also was a basketful of fine cooperation from Commissioner Harry Fawkes, who was largely responsible for the smoothness with which the whole party went off.

The cooking, most of it, was done by Bixler and John Irvine, of the township traffic safety department. And a fine job they did of it, too, because several trips had to be made to the local market to replenish the supplies.

Incidentally, Chief Stewart is an artist with a potato salad paddle. Fast, too. Only thing, they couldn't get him turned off. He was producing paper cupsful of potato salad much faster than the recruiters could find customers for them. The Chief was almost out of sight before he blew a fuse and ran down.

Highlight of the day for the kids present were some pony rides, which had the youngsters crowing with delight for more than an hour; and we guess if we had to pick any one chief source of enjoyment for the 125 adults who were there we'd have to pick the relaxation. All in all, it was a grand day, and those responsible can be proud of a tough job well done.

MOCO

TODAY'S TIDES AT BRISTOL*

High 5:38 a.m. Low 1:09 p.m.

*For the tides at Morrisville add 15 minutes for high tide and 45 minutes for low tide.

Borough Planners To Get New Life

Information expected at a special meeting of Morrisville Council tonight is expected to generate renewed activity among the borough's planning groups. Under recent urging of council plans for redevelopment of parts of Morrisville have received new consideration.

A resolution asking Bucks County officials to create a Redevelopment Authority, a necessary administrative step before any financial aid can be received from state and Federal agencies, was passed at the last meeting of Council.

Two state specialists from the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce will address the council at the Tuesday session. According to Councilman Thomas Rohner, head of the Morrisville Development Committee, groups planning borough development and redevelopment have, thus far, been working in the dark.

One Year Old
Rohner's committee has been in action since last year, but has done very little besides discussing the feasibility of some plans. Also missing is a land-use map from the county, showing what land is being used for what purpose in the borough.

The main job of the committee thus far, Rohner said, has been the accumulation of information. The group will act in an advisory capacity to the planning commission.

Objects of the two planning units will include parking problems, congestion, and business-making currently troubling merchants in the downtown area. The downtown area is defined by Rohner as Bridge St. and the immediately adjacent blocks.

Long Term
"This is strictly a long term proposition," Rohner cautioned. "What we hope to do is make the business section of the borough more appealing to potential customers."

"Along with that," Rohner continued, "we hope to attract more of the type of businesses that will in turn attract more of those customers."

"This all depends on what the urban redevelopment program has to offer us," Rohner added. "Our main goal is to create a bustling downtown district," he said.

Included in future plans is the appointment of certain areas for apartment-type projects in an ordinance, Rohner said. This would have the effect of circumventing much of the legal delay inherent in such a project.

New Boro Hall?
Rohner hopes that the initial start of redevelopment would be construction of a new borough hall. Next in line would be the development of open land along the river front, then, perhaps, tearing down of some of the older buildings and re-use of the land on which they stand.

"We can't start this thing blind," Rohner said. "After next week, we'll have something basic to work with," he explained.

Plan Revision
The plan was proposed by Scattergood at the June 6 meeting of the supervisors.

The planning commission is currently devoting most of its time to revision of the township's master plan. The plan was first planned in 1954 by New Hope planning consultant Russell Black.

Revision of the plan is expected to take at least another six months. Main points of study by the commission include existing land use, natural features, population, streets, roads, and highways and land for development. The commission is also making an analysis of the character of present land development in the township.

Feature Study
A study of the natural features of the township will include topography, soil types and possible water yield of the land. Population will be reviewed in regard to present and past trends of growth and composition of the area. This part of the survey will include reviewing future growth of population and population potential.

A review of the present zoning ordinances is also being conducted by the commission. The study is being made along the lines of the original plan. Cost of the review will be shared by the township and the county. It is expected that the township will apply for federal aid to reduce costs of the study.

Borough Council Resets Codification Meeting
Morrisville Borough Council will meet to begin codification of its ordinances at 8 p.m. tomorrow. The meeting was originally scheduled for last Tuesday, but had to be postponed because of illness of the borough solicitor Philip Jones.

The council will attempt to modernize the borough's ordinances, some of which date back to 1894. Some of the older laws will be repealed because they are outdated. Also, some of the ordinances will be consolidated to prevent duplication of function.

Tourist Attractions
"Drive during the early part of the day and stop in the late afternoon when you'll have plenty of time to find the type of accommodations you wish at a price you can afford to pay; check in advance the cost of admission to tourist attractions, and if possible, plan your trip during the spring or autumn instead of during peak travel seasons when roads and overnight accommodations are crowded and prices higher."

Treasury Will Pay Off $600 Million Nat'l Debt
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury will pay off $600 million of the national debt next month.

Republicans were certain to cite this in the coming election campaign as the fruit of the Eisenhower administration's "responsible" fiscal policies.

The debt reduction comes on the heels of — and is partly the result — of President Eisenhower's announcement that the government finished out the last fiscal year June 30 with a surplus of $1.1 billion, five times more than last year's deficit.

Noting that individual tastes could alter figures, Proud broke down the $40 average this way: Car operating costs, $9; overnight accommodations, $9.50; food, $12; tips, $2.50; admissions and amusements, $2.50; and souvenirs, incidentals, refreshments and emergencies, at least $4.50.

To stretch the vacation dollar as far as possible, Proud suggested:

Dead Frightened
They emerged dead frightened the next morning.

"We never could close our eyes for the sound of running footsteps," they reported.

After that, even the most skeptical of Berners accepted the theory of a resident spook. Even the Federal Police, though it still keeps the old aliens' files there, refrains as much as it can from disturbing him.

Occasionally, police find that someone had unlocked the front door—the ghost, maybe, needing some fresh air after the long days and weeks among the dusty files.

No one, however, has ever seen the ghost of Junkergasse. He can only be heard, Berners say.

It's another story with Hans Franz Nageli, a Bern ghost said to live somewhere inside the old city walls.

Conqueror's Ghost
For centuries, many Berners have believed that the ghost of this conqueror of Vaud is haunting their city. According to legend, two women went to the Fricktrepp, believed to be the place where Nageli usually hides away, and appealed to him to help them because they were living in great poverty.

Nageli appeared from a chink in the old wall and listened to their plea. When they returned home, the legend says, they found on their kitchen table a loaf of bread and a little fortune in gold coins which never diminished, however much was taken. Little boys still go to the Fricktrepp to call out Nageli's name—and then run as fast as they can. The old knight, the legend says, slaps those who tease him.

Skinned Cow
An even more formidable sight than the knight in his armor would be the skinned cow which is said to have appeared for the last time before the destruction of old Bern three centuries ago. The story is that a cruel butcher who skinned a cow alive was condemned to assume the form of the poor animal. For a long time, Berners believed that it roamed the streets on holy days and in time of war, begging for mercy. Other Bern ghost yarns center on Gen. Robert Scipio von Lantulus, an almost 7-foot-tall Swiss mercenary whose rose high in the army of Frederick the Great. He is said to live at the edge of a wood on the outskirts of town in a solitary summer house.

Bathing Beauties Play 'Robin Hood' On Mill Street, Bristol

If they look menacing, these pistol packin' lasses (from left) Carol Newton, Bobbi Dauphine, Lorraine Bria, Toni Wunderlick, Jean Gries and Pinky Robecker, actually have hearts of pure gold. This is just part of a Dollar Day promotion on Mill St., Bristol.

Gungirls Misses Newton and Dauphine extort a bundle of loot from cashier Betty White at the Philadelphia National Bank but Bristol Borough police arrive moments later to place the girls

"under arrest." Dollar Days are Thursday, Friday and Saturday for Mill Street Businessmen's Association stores.

Temporary Quarters Set For Morrisville Classes

Tentative plans for accommodations of students who will eventually have their classes in the M.R. Reiter School were announced yesterday by Dr. Paul Phillips, superintendent of Morrisville Schools.

The Case School, which was closed in March, 1958, after being condemned as a fire hazard by state authorities, will not be reopened, Dr. Phillips said. He added that rather than make the extensive improvements required by the state, the classes will be distributed among the borough's other schools.

Teachers Assigned
Teachers of the classes at the high school will be Mrs. Rae Bennett, fourth grade; Miss Mildred Arms, fifth grade; Miss Helen Asbury, sixth grade; and Vern Ferguson, sixth grade.

A fourth grade and a fifth grade will be housed in the Manor Park School, a combined total of 50 students. Teaching these grades will be Mrs. Virginia Enoch, fourth grade; and Mrs. Emma Klingerman, fifth grade.

Grandview Classes
At the Grandview School there will be a morning session of kindergarten, a first grade, a second grade and a third grade — a total of 91 pupils. Teachers of these classes will be Mrs. Jean Robbins, Kindergarten; Mrs. Donna Weed, first grade; Miss Carol Metchock, second grade; and Mrs. Henrietta Cumberley, third grade.

Thirty pupils in a fourth grade class will use a playroom in the Capitol View School, as they did last year. Miss Myra Arms will teach this class.

First Transfers
As soon as accommodations in the Reiter School are available, the pupils at the Morrisville High School and the Manor Park School will be transferred.

Dr. Phillips said that there has been an attempt to keep the pupils as close to their neighborhoods as possible so that a minimum of travel would be involved by each pupil. He said that the program is a flexible one, so that adjustments might be made as they are deemed necessary.

When finished, the Reiter School, now undergoing a $420,000 renovation, will contain 15 classrooms.

Morrisville CPA Joins State Accountant's Unit

Certified Public Accountant George L. Walter, 109 Makefield Road, Morrisville, has been elected to membership in the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Walter is associated with the United States General Accounting Office in Philadelphia.

Organized in 1897, the Pennsylvania Institute is the second oldest state professional accounting society in the U. S. and has a membership of more than 3,300 CPAs.

Merchants Oppose Wage Hike In Wilkes-Barre

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (UPI) — Area merchants told a state wage board yesterday that an increase in the present 85-cent hourly wage would cause curtailment of employment in stores.

The Greater Wilkes-Barre area merchants testified that, in view of rising costs and declining sales, they would be forced to dismiss elderly and young employees.

Presiding at the hearing of the Mercantile Wage Board was Dr. the Department of Economics at Lafayette College, Easton.

Swiss Capital Haunted By Ghosts That Creep

BERN, Switzerland (UPI) — Several ghosts, a resident spook and a skinned cow with the soul of a cruel butcher inside are haunting the Swiss capital and its surroundings.

And what's more—science apparently can not disprove or explain the existence of at least one of the ghosts.

This ghost has been "living" for many decades in a 16th Century "haunted house" on the sunny side of Junkergasse St., in the old city of Bern. You can easily tell this house from the others—its shutters are closed day and night.

Slamming Doors
Even in this time of the atom and jets, no one wants to live there. It echoes with the noise of slamming doors and footsteps creeping up and down the creaky stairs.

Ten years ago the Swiss government decided to put an end to the rumors—and to the waste of leaving a solidly built house stand unused—by buying it and using it for storing the archives of the Federal Aliens' Police.

The ghost wasn't disturbed. The same old creaking and the mysterious footsteps were still heard. Then some scientifically minded students decided to move in for a night in an effort to disprove the rumors.

Dead Frightened
They emerged dead frightened the next morning.

"We never could close our eyes for the sound of running footsteps," they reported.

After that, even the most skeptical of Berners accepted the theory of a resident spook. Even the Federal Police, though it still keeps the old aliens' files there, refrains as much as it can from disturbing him.

Occasionally, police find that someone had unlocked the front door—the ghost, maybe, needing

Morrisville Yardley Makefield

Wheel Locks, Causes Crash

A three-vehicle accident occurred on River Road, Lower Makefield at 8:15 a.m. yesterday after one of the cars involved suffered a mechanical failure, according to police. No injuries were reported.

Lower Makefield Police Chief Robert Waterson said that Ronald A. Bonno, 24, of River Road, RD 1, Yardley, was driving north on River Road when his front left wheel locked, forcing his car to the left side of the highway.

Traveling south, and directly in Bonno's path, was a tractor-trailer driven by George N. Applegate, 30, of 1548 Lakeshore Drive, Brown Mills, N.J. The truck was being followed closely by another car driven by Henry Harmsen, 55, of General Mervar Road, Washington Crossing.

Bonno's car struck the tractor-trailer at the left rear wheel, police said, then collided with Harmsen's car.

Applegate said he tried to avoid the oncoming car, but was prevented from pulling over to the side of the road by a telephone pole, police said.

Damage to each car was estimated at $300, police said. There was no damage to the truck, police added.

Six Youths Fined For Disorderly Conduct
Six youths were arrested and fined for disorderly conduct in Morrisville over the weekend, borough police revealed this morning.

The youths are Robert Pivonki, 19, of 126 Grove St., Morrisville; Anthony Cappiello, 18, and his brother, Joseph, 17, both of 31 South Morris Ave., Morrisville; Louis Groves, 19, of 26 East Trenton Ave., Fallsington; George Weeks, 19, of 25 Hill Ave., Morrisville; and David Fabian, 18, of 1206 Ohio Ave., Morrisville.

Police said the boys are "hanging around" the Morrisville Shopping Center and had been warned repeatedly by Patrolman William Kerner to disperse.

The boys were arrested at 4:15 a.m. Saturday by Officer Kerner. They were given a hearing a short time later before Justice of the Peace Neal Nolan who fined them $10 and costs each.

Arkansas has a half - million acres of water, including lakes, rivers and streams.

MOVING STORAGE PACKING
call
WI 5-0112
MANNING'S MAYFLOWER
Newportville Road, LEVITTOWN
Lowest Fire Rate
Exclusive Agents
Aero Mayflower Transit Company

Read what the experts say:

CAR LIFE
CAR LIFE Magazine says:
"OLDS IS THE BEST BUY IN THE MEDIUM PRICE CLASS!"

Get your free copy of the article from Car Life Magazine . . . at your OLDS Dealer's Now!

See Your Local Authorized Oldsmobile Quality Dealer

Summer Classes At Makefield

David Arata (center) pays close attention while Bernard Hartz (right), ceramics instructor at the Makefield School, Lower Makefield, during the summer program, begins decorating a freshly-molded clay mug. Busy on a project of his own is Ricky Chamberlain. (Courier-Times Photo) you must see these lovely 3-bedroom ranchers!

- Young but fully established community in beautiful Bucks County—all sewers, water, sidewalks, etc. in and paid for
- Spacious homes on large lots have mature landscaping, combination storm windows, carports
- Handsomely equipped G.E. and Westinghouse kitchens with garbage disposal, washer and dryer, plenty of steel cabinets—and more!
- Finest, most modern schools in the state—churches, magnificent shopping center, swimming pool—many other extras
- ONLY $100 DOWN & YOU MOVE RIGHT IN, vets or non-vets

FAIRLESS HILLS

The Completely Planned Community
U. S. Route One (Roosevelt Blvd.)—8 miles north of Philadelphia city limits, or phone DANHERST CORP.
Builders and Developers Windsor 6-3962

